

CHAIRMAN BUD HEIN confers with Dale Peterson, Shirley Hanson and Bobb Rastello on the plans for what is expected to be UMD's biggest and most lavish Homecoming.

Homecoming Committees Begin Plans for 1949 Celebration

Harold "Bud" Hein, general chairman, has announced the program of activities for the 1949 UMD Homecoming celebration. Climaxing the festivities will be the football game between UMD and Winona State teachers college. The slogan for the game will be "Winova-Winona."

The sale of booster buttons will begin on Monday, Oct. 17. The following schedule completes the homecoming program:

- Friday, Oct. 21—Queen campaign begins.
- Tuesday, Oct. 25—Pep convocation 11 a. m.
- Thursday, Oct. 27 — Queen convocation 11 a. m. Polls open 12 a. m. Varsity show 7:30 p. m. Bonfire (Chester Bowl) 9 p. m.

University Guild Players Announce Program for Year

The first meeting of the University Guild players was held in Tweed hall Oct. 5. Harold Hayes, director of the University theatre, announced that tryouts for the Guild's forthcoming production of "Life With Father" will begin Oct. 11 and continue until all who want to try out have had a chance to read. The tryouts will be held in room 216 Main at 7:30 p. m.

Newman Club Sets First Meeting

Tweed hall will be the scene of the first general meeting of Catholic college students Thursday, Oct. 13, at 8 p. m.

Featured on the program will be a welcoming address by Father Golden, club chaplain, and a description of her travels in Europe last summer by Miss Schumacher, club advisor.

"Students who are interested in forming a discussion club can obtain more details at the meeting," according to Pat Heaslip, president. Other officers are: William Hannan, vice president; Jean Grandmaison, secretary; Robert Banks, treasurer; and Albert Chalupsky, Student council representative.

Duluth to Hear Dr. Miller's Latest Composition

The latest composition of Dr. Dale Miller entitled "Symphony Number One" will receive its premier performance in the Centennial concert of the Duluth Symphony orchestra, Oct. 14 at the Armory. The concert will be conducted by Joseph Wagner, director of the Duluth Symphony orchestra.

Introduced to European audiences this summer was "Night

Poem," another orchestral work composed by Dr. Miller. It was broadcast on a Swedish radio network during a series of concerts of American music that Mr. Wagner conducted in the Scandinavian countries.

"Dance Poem," another work of Dr. Miller's will be featured by the symphony orchestra at the Iowa Education association meeting in Des Moines this month. This composition was first performed last February by the University orchestra.

Tickets for the Centennial concert may be obtained from the office of the Division of fine and applied arts at Olcott hall.

Hotel Duluth to be Scene of Kickoff Dance

The Kickoff dance, under the chairmanship of Ben Finch, will be held tonight at the Hotel Duluth from 9 to 12 with music by the Silver-tones.

Assisting Finch on the committee are Joanne Erickson and Marie Larson. Ruth Sieger and Betty Amyott are in charge of decorations. Admission for all UMD students is by one activities card per couple.

In outlining plans for the year, Mr. Hayes said, "We have an exciting selection of plays, beginning with 'Life With Father.' The Guild's next two productions will be 'The Glass Menagerie' by Tennessee Williams, and John Patrick's 'The Hasty Heart.' All three are prize plays which both the audiences and theatre workers will enjoy."

"Life With Father," adopted from Clarence Day's book of the same name, ran on Broadway for seven successful seasons and was later made into a movie. The cast includes seven women and six men.

Student Council Downs Attempt To Supplement Social Fee

Student council president Lee Williams yesterday retracted his previous announcement of a 25 cent charge for the Kickoff dance. Tonight's dance is free.

Williams announced that the social activities budget allotment will remain at 55 cents per student for at least the fall quarter. However, he revealed that there is a possibility that it will be cut to 50 cents in the winter and spring quarters. He also pointed out that it may be possible to obtain a "big name" band for the Prom.

Dr. Gibson Surveys UMD Advancement

Thursday, Sept. 29 at 11 a. m. in the auditorium, UMD Provost Raymond C. Gibson addressed the student body at the first all-school convocation of the year. Dr. Chester Wood, student personnel director, introduced Dr. Gibson to the student body.

Dr. Gibson began his address with a comparison of UMD as it was when he came here three years ago, and as it is now, attributing the rapid advances to the combined alert efforts of faculty, student body and Duluth citizens. A look at the facts shows a remarkably rapid advancement since Dr. Gibson accepted the position as head of the school. The enrollment has jumped from 980 students to over 1,900; the staff has been doubled and the institution has become a branch of the University of Minnesota. On the school's new 160 acre campus a new science building has been erected and the classes will finish moving into it in the next few weeks.

Dr. Gibson predicted: "I think that by the time these freshmen become seniors we will have a new humanities department, a new library, a minimum of two new dormitories, a new heating plant, and of course, the new athletic plant. The new campus will begin to look like a university."

Dr. Gibson challenged the students, referring to the further development of the new campus, as he stated, "I would

The president then asked the council to take action on the general policy of assessing additional charges for future social functions.

Don Cook (member-at-large) immediately contended that additional charges were unnecessary. He pointed out that "although the budget allotment from last year is the same the council has decided to cut $600 on the prom budget and $400 on the homecoming budget. Each year many school-wide social events such as the Medicine ball, the Slide-rule dance, First Chance dance, the Woodchopper's ball, and the Military ball, not to mention numerous others, are supported financially by the organizations without council aid."

Herbert Taylor (Alpha Psi Omega) moved that the finance committee rule on all additional charges, if necessary, for social activities and subject their report to the council for approval or rejection. The motion was carried by a 12-11 vote.

Harvey Albond (STATESMAN) moved that there be no charge for the Kickoff dance. The motion was carried by a wide majority.

The Homecoming budget report requesting $600 was submitted to the council and accepted unanimously.

The meeting was adjourned to Tues., Oct. 11, at 6:30 p. m. when election of the vice president and secretary will be held. A permanent meeting time will be set at this meeting.

Dr. Steele Inaugurates UMD Wesley Foundation

The Wesley foundation, a new organization open to all Methodist students at UMD, held its first meeting last night at Endion Community Methodist church.

Administrative director of the foundation is Dr. Otto Scott Steele, minister of the Endion church. The purpose of the foundation is to provide for the social, educational and religious care of Methodist students.

Weekly meetings of the foundation will be Sunday evening from 5 to 7 p. m. at the Endion church, located at 1830 East First street.

Statesman to Pursue Forceful Policy

The STATESMAN realizes that this is solely the property of the UMD student body and that its staff is duty-bound to reflect University sentiment. For this reason the students deserve a well-defined statement of policy from their newspaper.

As was generally the case last year two editorials will be published per issue, one dealing with a pertinent campus problem and the other with some national or international topic of import.

In controversial campus matters each school of thought will be given an opportunity to express its views. The STATESMAN will then publish its own conclusions based entirely on the merits of the case without regard to personalities or groups involved.

Williams Favors Charge at Dances

The UMD student council yesterday considered a plan whereby students would be charged admissions for school social activities.

There were about twelve social functions last year or four every three months. This was not adequate to fill a school's responsibility to its students' social needs.

Furthermore, most of the activities were of the dancing type. Granted that they are important, it remains that swimming parties, sports nights, and others of a similar nature are needed to round out a social program.

Without an admission plan, we must be content to get along as last year, with the exception that sharp decreases in prom and homecoming budgets would allow for a slight increase in the number of functions.

For this reason, I endorsed such a plan and publicized the admissions for the first dance tonight. I did this, realizing that if the council rejected the plan, the dance would become a free dance.

The council indicated by its vote its approval of a general policy of permitting charges to be made, if desired by the council, for each individual activity as it comes up. Admittance to the dance tonight will be by activities card only.

★ Each question of national or international dispute will be analyzed editorially with an eye to its effects on society as a whole rather than its partisan political implications.

For the first time this year a weekly paper will be published by UMD. This represents a great forward stride in the scope of student activities. A weekly newspaper will prove of tremendous value in better informing the student population of the many and varied University curricular and extracurricular programs.

With its groundwork laid in the past and its eye to the future and with the preceding principles in mind the STATESMAN will continue to serve the student body in a manner befitting its position as a spokesman for university public relations.

Phy Ed Department Adds Trampoline

UMD's rapidly expanding physical education department has recently added a novel piece of apparatus to its inventory called a "trampoline".

Taylor Has Faith, Meets Hope, But Finds Very Little Charity

By Herbert Taylor

The moment has arrived. At last I was to meet America's top comedian, Bob Hope, brought to Duluth by a local radio station (I wish I could tell which one, because I work for WEBC).

I stood in the wings, breathless with anticipation. Out on the stage, the comedian was making several hundred people laugh uproariously. He finished, turned from the mike, and walked straight toward me. I straightened my Bob Hope necktie nervously, wiped my moist hand on my lapel, and extended it to clasp his.

"Mr. Hope," I began, "this is the most thrilling moment of my life. In all my years of movie-going and radio-listening, one man has stood out in my mind. One personality, with his talent and versatility has left an enduring impression on me. And that's why I'm so happy to meet you, Mr. Hope, because I understand you frequently play golf with Bing Crosby."

Hope scratched his chin reflectively with his nose. "Who," he asked, "or should I say what, are you?"

"I'm Herb Taylor, the Hope of UMD. I'm here to interview you. May I ask you a few questions? Fine. Now then, Mr. Hope, you are one of America's top gag men. What I ★ want to know is, what was your very first gag?"

"The one my mother put on me when I was four so I wouldn't bite my little brother. I got even with her, though. I inflicted the worst punishment I could imagine on her."

"You grew up?"

"Exactly."

"As a top radio personality, do you think there is any Hope for television?"

Mr. Hope flinched, "Look, son, ever since grammar school, people have been making puns on my name. I vowed that the next time someone did it to my face, I'd strangle him with his own necktie. If your's didn't have my picture on it——"

"Why Mr. Hope, you look fit to be tied."

Hope groaned. He mumbled something under his breath about small-town comedians. A small purple vein stood out on his forehead. "Take that egg you just laid," he said, "put it in your shoe, and beat it. This situation has been sad up 'til now, but from now on it's Hopeless."

With that, he strode away. I couldn't help wondering if he was going to strangle himself with his own necktie.

LOST ACTIVITIES CARDS

A large number of student activities cards for the fall term have been reported lost. These cards are issued with the understanding that they are not transferable, and the Business Office has no way of making refunds or reissuing tickets. The Business Office requests that students take every precaution to provide for the safekeeping of these cards which admit the student to the various school activities.

MEDICAL ADMISSION TEST

Friday, Oct. 7 is the last day to file applications for the medical college admission test. Blanks are available in the Office of student personnel services. Only applicants for admission to classes beginning the study of medicine in the fall of 1950 should apply.

LOCKER ITEMS

A considerable number of valuable items including textbooks, notebooks, clothing, etc., is being held by the engineer as a result of the clearing out lockers for use this fall. These items can be secured upon proper identification by contacting Mr. Algot Nelson, Engineer. Items that are not called for by Oct. 15 will be disposed of without further attempt to locate the owner.

FIRE DRILLS

Because of the extreme fire hazard in Old Main a number of fire drills will be held in the near future. All students and faculty are requested and urged to cooperate in making these drills a success by becoming familiar with all fire drill regulations and the location of all stairways, exits, fire extinguishers and hoses.

VETERAN'S NOTICE

Veterans interested in getting a Webster's Dictionary please sign a petition in the hall, (starting Oct. 10).—Joseph Vat-alano.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

Applications for Rhodes scholarships are due on or before Oct. 29, 1949. These scholarships at present provide 500 pounds per year toward attendance at the University of Oxford in England. A candidate to be eligible must:

1. Be a male citizen of the United States and be unmarried.
2. Be between the ages of 19 and 25 Oct. 1, 1950, and have completed at least his sophomore year in college by the time of application.

Any student who is interested in applying for a Rhodes scholarship should see Dr. Wood in the Office of student personnel services.

AAUW LOAN FUND

The American Association of University Women has established a fund for the purpose of aiding women who are preparing to enter the teaching profession. This is a $300 loan and is interest free. It need not be repaid until several years after graduation. Any woman who is interested in applying for this assistance should see Dr. Wood in the Office of student personnel services before Friday, Oct. 14.

PURCHASING PROCEDURES

All purchases from the Student Activities Fund must be authorized in advance on the proper forms which may be secured in the Student personnel office. Unauthorized charges will not be honored.

suspended blanket caused to be elastic by a series of springs bordering the outside edge of the blanket, or "bed", as it is called. These springs in turn are attached to a reinforced steel pipe frame which is supported by additional framework holding the bed approximately three feet from the floor.

Although the mechanical aspects of the trampoline are easily grasped, mastering its various gymnastic uses is quite a different situation. Using the trampoline is virtually the same as diving with the exception of swimming back to the board for another dive. The front, back and twisting progressions are utilized.

The naval air fore included trampoline tumbling in their advanced training to orient the men in different suspended positions. In recent years nationwide competition has developed among both men and women and promises to supply some very colorful collegiate events.

Social Activities Has New Director

The Office of student personnel services announced this week that beginning Monday, Oct. 10, Mrs. Margaret McClellan will be employed as recreation counselor of Washburn hall. Her official title will be student center supervisor.

Mrs. McClellan will have her office in the sunporch of Washburn and her duties will consist mainly of supervising student organizations, activities and social functions and of being responsible for the inventory and care of social equipment.

Mrs. McClellan has a BA degree from the University of Minnesota. She taught mathematics and English at UMD before it became a branch of the University. Her husband was formerly resident director of DSTC.

Dolores Welch Is Second UMD Girl to Be Duchess

Last Tuesday evening Dolores Jeanne Welch was chosen Duchess V of Duluth. Once again Duluth drew its regal beauty from the halls of UMD. Miss Welch was chosen from 16 contestants in the climax of the first annual Fall Festival.

Before a packed armory crowd, Bob Hope escorted the new Duchess to the throne. Jackie Galvin, Duchess IV of Duluth, descended from her throne to place the crown on her successor's head.

Dolores Welch

Duchess Dolores is 20 years old, weighs 120 pounds and is five feet, five inches tall. Miss Welch, a junior, majors in education with an English minor.

Other Hollywood celebrities at the coronation included Les Brown and singer Doris Day.

LOCKER-ROOM CHATTER

by DAVE DYE
Sports Editor, UMD Statesman

This will be a year of well-organized confusion at the University of Minnesota, Duluth Branch; confusion because of the conference set-up and well-organized under the capable direction of the new athletic director, Lewis Rickert. UMD has actually been accepted into the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic conference, but due to schedule inflexibility will confine its football schedule to members of the State Teacher's College conference this fall. Next year the local gridders will begin competition with members of the MIAC. However, this winter will mark the beginning of basketball competition in the new conference as our cagers play such staunch foes as Hamline and St. Thomas. The basketball season should be something to look forward to.

Lee

One-minute interview

Meet Ole Lee, captain of the UMD Bulldog football squad. Ole is a 1944 graduate of Denfeld high school, where he was a star center on the gridiron. He spent two years in the U. S. Navy before enrolling at UMD, where he is now a senior, majoring in phy ed. Ole thinks the UMD gridders will go a long way this year and points to the new spirit and squad hustle as indicators of this opinion.

As for thrills, Captain Lee seems to remember best the year of 1943 when the Denfeld Hunters won the Twin Ports championship and he played alongside Ernie Ege, Dick Lundquist, Rudy Brandstrom and Jack King, all of whom are teammates again. Ole has played at both the center and fullback positions for Coach Peterson's Bulldog elevens, and says it doesn't matter where he plays, just so it's in a good hard game of football.

From here and there

Several men have indicated that they would like to run in cross-country this fall. More candidates are needed to fill out the necessary ten men for the team, and any interested persons are asked to contact Mr. Rickert. There is a distinct possibility that this team would compete at St. Thomas sometime in October.

. . . A hockey note: A high scoring trio of pucksters have transferred to the main campus from UMD. Don Bodin, Russ Strom and Bob Nyhus have made the switch and will attempt to bolster the Gopher sextet this winter . . . If the instructors are noticing many absences these afternoons, they need look no farther than around the nearest radio for the explanation. For the frantic pennant races and the World Series are the main topic of conversation wherever students gather. Never before in our memory have we had such down-to-the-wire pennant scrambles, and until the World Series is finished, even football must take a back seat, although grid fans in this area are keeping their eyes on the on-rushing Gophers from the main campus. Many rose-scented visions are being dreamed up by the more avid rooters of the Maroon and Gold.

New Athletic Director Assumes Duties at UMD

By John Parkinson

Smiling, busy Lewis J. Rickert, recently appointed athletic director, looked up from a huge pile of work on his desk to give an interview to this reporter. My first impression was a good one and it increased as our conversation progressed.

The athletic director—his full title is director of physical education, health and athletics—is a native of Cincinnati, Ohio. He attended Western

Bulldogs Travel to Bemidji Tonight to Seek First Win

The UMD Bulldogs travel northwestward tonight to tackle the rough and tough Bemidji Beavers. Coach Lloyd Peterson's eleven will be looking for their first victory and hope to rebound from the loss to Moorhead in the opener to dump the Lumberjacks. Bemidji is also set to come back after dropping a close 6-0 verdict to Mankato's big Indians in a game marked by four fights.

The Bulldogs anticipate no changes in the lineup which played the major share of the Moorhead game. Dick Carlson and Bob Rice will be directing the T-offense featuring the running of Fred Murphy, Ole Lee, Bob Galinski, and Bernie Neary behind the stalwart front line of Ernie Ege, Glen Olson, John Kutcheid, Fran Severs, and Joe Soboleski, flanked at the ends by Leon Kasmir and Bob Murray.

Bemidji will field a half-veteran, half-freshman team which packs a lot of power at fullback, where Capt. Richmire holds forth. Joining Richmire in the backfield will be triple-threat man Buckley at left half, Wilcox, and Vinji. Up front, the end combination of Sherman and Kuelbs, flank tackles Anderson and Robertson, guards Perkins and Dickinson, and center Miller.

GLENN CHRISTIE tries to give the slip to Moorhead's Debrito (51) and Gotta (42) as he returns a punt during the Bulldog's opening game which the Dragons won, 13-6.

Dragons Defeat Bulldogs On Intercepted Pass Return

One intercepted pass was the difference between the UMD Bulldogs and the Moorhead Dragons last Saturday night as the visitors ground out a 13-6 verdict. The locals opened the scoring by sending Leon Kasmir on an end around to rack up six points. Gotta made it 7-6 on his 85-yard return of the pilfered pass, and Woods clinched the victory as he raced across the double stripes. Outstanding for their play were Kasmir and Bob Murray, alert and aggressive ends; Ernie Ege, a wall at defensive guard; hard running Fred Murphy; and quarterback-magician, Dick Carlson.

Intramurals Begin In Football, Bowling

The intramural program at UMD is yet to be completed, but Mr. Wells, UMD physical education and intramural director, has sent out a call for students actively interested in touch football and bowling. If a sufficient number of students turn out for bowling, lanes will be open to the University at the Pioneer bowling center one night or day in the week. Those wishing to sign up for these two intramural sports may do so on the bulletin board located next to the physical education office in the basement.
